ALX LEGACY POINTS GUIDE

1.   What are Legacy Points?

1.1.   Legacy Points are designed to reward your engagement, learning progress, and contributions within the ALX Community. By participating in activities such as posting discussions, attending events, and completing your ALX programme submissions on time, you can earn Legacy Points that can be redeemed for rewards upon completing your ALX programme.

1.2.   💡 Key Purpose: Legacy Points encourage meaningful participation, recognise your achievements, and help you stay motivated throughout your ALX journey.

2.   Complete your ALX Program

2.1.   You can earn Legacy Points by submitting your ALX Program tests, quizzes, milestones, and assignments on-time. Below are the detailed earning rules for each action:

2.2.   Onboarding to the eHub or Portal

  2.3.9.   💡 Tip: Get started and make the most of your journey on the ALX eHub or Portal!

2.4.   ALX Programme Legacy Points

  2.4.1.   Legacy Points are awarded for completing ALX programme submissions on time, including milestones, tests, quizzes, assignments, and projects.

  2.4.2.   To qualify for Legacy Points, each submission must be received on or before the official deadline set by the ALX Programme. Deadlines—and what counts as "on time"—are defined per programme. Submissions made after the deadline do not qualify for any Legacy Points under any circumstances.

2.5.   Base Points for On-Time Submissions

  2.5.1.   The base Legacy Points value is 50 per eligible submission (unless otherwise specified).

2.5.2. Base points apply to each on-time submission of graded or ungraded assessments.

2.6. Programme Legacy Points Breakdown

2.6.1. 250 Legacy Points – For completing your ALX Programme on time. (One-time reward per programme)

2.6.2. 100 Legacy Points – For submitting your first milestone and an additional 100 Legacy Points for submitting your first test on time in each programme. (One-time reward per programme)

2.6.3. 50 Legacy Points per submission – Awarded for submitting weekly milestones and weekly tests on time. (Each eligible submission earns points individually)

2.7. On-time Graded Boosts

2.7.1. If an ALX Programme includes graded submissions, you can earn additional Graded Boost Legacy Points based on your score, in addition to the base Legacy Points. Graded Boosts are only awarded for on-time submissions that meet or exceed the minimum pass mark, which is defined per programme. On-time Graded Boosts will apply to the following ALX Programs AI Career Essentials, Virtual Assistance, Professional Foundations, Pathway and Founder Academy.

Graded Score Range	Graded Boost Legacy Points Awarded
Below Minimum Pass Mark	0 Legacy Points
Minimum Pass Mark – 79%*	15 Legacy Points
80% – 89%	25 Legacy Points
90% – 99%	37 Legacy Points
100%	50 Legacy Points

2.7.2. Example 1: Submitted on time, but score below Minimum Pass Mark of 70% (e.g. You scored 69%). You will receive the base Legacy Points for submitting on time, but no Graded Boost will be awarded since the score is below the required pass mark.

2.7.3. Example 2: Submitted on time and above Minimum Pass Mark of 70%, passed with 75%. You will earn the base Legacy Points for submitting on time plus a Graded Boost of 15 Legacy Points.

2.7.4. Example 3: Submitted late, even with a score above Minimum Pass Mark. If you miss the deadline, you will not receive any base Legacy Points or a Graded Boost, even if your score is high. On-time submission is required for both.

2.7.5. Note: Graded Boosts are calculated from the Base ALX Programme Legacy Points of 50. *The minimum pass mark is determined by each programme and may vary.

2.7.6. Graded Boosts will only be awarded for deliverables that are submitted on time and scored based on performance—such as quizzes, tests, or projects that return a result like 85%, 92%, etc.

2.7.7. Deliverables that automatically receive 100% for submission—even if submitted on time—do not qualify for Graded Boosts. This includes tasks like attendance forms, reflections, or placeholder activities. While these may display a score, Graded Boosts are only awarded for deliverables that are evaluated based on quality or correctness, not just completion.

2.7.8. Submissions must be made on or before the official submission deadline. Late submissions do not qualify for any Legacy Points, including Graded Boosts.

2.7.9. The following programmes do not qualify for Graded Boosts: Data Analytics, Data Science, Salesforce, AWS Cloud Computing.

2.7.10. Retakes & Final Score for Boost

    2.7.10.1. For Graded Boosts, here's how retakes work:

    2.7.10.2. One retake counts: We will only consider your first attempt plus one (1) additional attempt, as long as both are submitted on time.

    2.7.10.3. Final score counts: If you take the additional attempt, the score from that attempt will be used to calculate your Graded Boost.

    2.7.10.4. More than one retake? You may take extra retakes if your programme allows, but only your first attempt + one additional attempt will count toward Graded Boosts.

    2.7.10.5. Example: You submit your first test on time and score 68% (below the pass mark). You retake on time and score 82%. Your Graded Boost will be based on the 82% score.

2.7.11. Remark Requests & Adjustments

    2.7.11.1. Submitting a remark request through your ALX Programme may lead to a recalculation of your Graded Boost, as long as the original submission was on time.

    2.7.11.2. Any changes to your score will result in an increase or decrease in Legacy Points, which will appear in your balance within 14 business days of the updated score being finalised.

    2.7.11.3. You must use your programme's official Remark Request process to submit the request.

    2.7.11.4. Once the updated score is recorded in the system, your Legacy Points will be automatically adjusted.

2.7.12. Manual Adjustments

    2.7.12.1. The Legacy Rewards Team may manually adjust Legacy Points to correct errors, reflect remark results, or handle other exceptional cases.

    2.7.12.2. Manual adjustments will include:

        2.7.12.2.1. The date of the adjustment

        2.7.12.2.2. The number of points added or removed

2.7.12.2.3.   The reason for the change
